

Have you just been diagnosed with H. pylori?

JOIN OUR RESEARCH TO LEARN HOW TO PROTECT YOU AND YOUR FAMILY FROM H. PYLORI AND STOMACH CANCER!

We are currently looking for participants to join a stomach cancer prevention research. Research has shown that H. pylori is the top risk factor for stomach cancer and nearly twice as many Chinese Americans develop stomach cancer compared to whites.

This research will help Chinese patients with H. pylori to learn more about H. pylori infection and how to make lifestyle changes to prevent stomach cancer. By participating in this research, you may be assigned to a community health worker who will help you make gradual healthy lifestyle changes to prevent stomach cancer.

You may be eligible for this research if you:

- Self-identify as Chinese American
- Speak Mandarin, Cantonese, or English
- Are 21 and over
- Recently diagnosed with H.pylori
- Have not yet started or completed the prescribed H.pylori treatment
- Can take part for up to 6 months

You may receive up to $75 for your participation. There is no cost to join.

- If you want to learn more about this research, please let your doctor or nurse at the clinic know, and they can connect you with us.
- You will receive a call from us within 3 days. You can also call us directly or text STUDY to 646-819-1566.
- We speak Mandarin, Cantonese, and English.
