

*Interested in Learning More about COVID-19 Testing and Vaccination?

NYU Grossman School of Medicine and Henry Street Settlement are offering COVID-19 testing and vaccination assistance for NYCHA residents in the Lower East Side community.

As part of a research study, we are inviting residents in the Jacob Riis and Vladeck houses to meet for about 30 minutes with trained community health workers to answer questions regarding testing, vaccination, and other COVID-related resources available in your community.

Riis and Vladeck Residents:

If you are interested in speaking with a community health worker about COVID-19 testing, testing options in your community, vaccination, and other COVID-19 related issues:
